Dear Quest:

It is not often that I am moved to write glowing letters of praise. But, due to the incredible and positive changes which have occurred since taking NAG, I became more and more motivated to let you know my history.

Within six months of commencing 6 capsules of NAG daily, I decreased my intake of medication drastically from 4 domperidone and 2 ranidine daily down to 1 ranidine occasionally! Pain decreased dramatically as a direct result of the NAG supplying my "missing ingredient" needed to renew and heal my ulcerated, bleeding oesophagus. I no longer needed intrusive investigations under anaesthetic to determine "how it's coming along", nor do I submit to surgery to correct anything. In fact, my doctor of internal medicine is as impressed as I am, although the surgeon seems to need something more before he will accept the proof!

When I became more pain free after five or six months and reduced my NAG intake to 4 capsules a day, the good results continued until I cut down to 2 a day. I soon noticed some early warnings of discomfort and immediately returned to a daily 6 until I felt comfortable once again, then returned to a daily maintenance level of 4, which I continue to date.

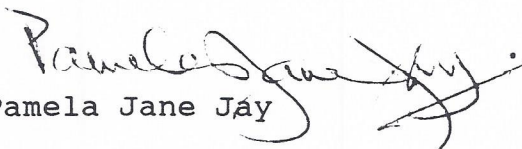

My current diagnosis is reflux, Barrett's syndrome, the ulcerated condition, with two strictures, after having been misdiagnosed in 1983 as having a huge sliding hiatus hernia causing all my discomfort.

Luckily, in 1989, a doctor of internal medicine saw through that misdiagnosis. In mid-1991, one of my friends told me of the qualities of your product, N-Acetyl-Glucosamine. Almost immediately I began taking NAG. Happily, the rest is my history.

My continued thanks to Quest for making this supplement available. Please use this letter in any way you wish. Meanwhile, I continue to delight in my improved condition, repeating to my doctors: It's the NAG.

Thanks again, Quest.

Yours sincerely,

Pamela Jane Jay
